

Mission Pioneers are people experimenting with different ways to be in mission, to share the gospel, and birthing new forms of church for 'those who don't do church'.

This gathering seeks to develop a community of innovators and experimenters with a passion for mission and birthing new forms of contextual church.

We will spend time digging into our key questions, learning from one another, with the option to visit some innovative ways of being church.

We will also have informal time to share conversations with like-minded folk over coffee, meals, evening drinks, and/or a game of pool or badminton!

Through listening to others' stories - the celebrations and the struggles - we will have opportunity to do some deep thinking together, to help each other see ways forward, and inspire each other to hear afresh God's call for us individually and as communities.
